WELCOME

PRAYER OF INVOCATION

Eternal God, whose rule extends through all times and places, nudge us to remain alert and watchful and ready for each moment's possibilities. Keep us from weariness, lest we miss Christ's presence and the opportunity to bear witness to the Spirit's movement among us. May our prayers and praise and service glorify you today and always. AMEN

OPENING HYMN: "WAKE, AWAKE, FOR NIGHT IS FLYING"

Verse 1

"Wake, awake, for night is flying,"
The watchmen on the heights are crying;
"Awake, Jerusalem, arise!"
Midnight hears the welcome voices
and at the thrilling cry rejoices:
"Oh, where are you ye virgins wise?
The Bridegroom comes: Awake!
Thy lamps with gladness take!
Alleluia!
With bridal care thyself prepare
To meet the Bridegroom who is near."

Verse 2

Zion hears the watchmen singing,
and on her heart new joy is springing.
She wakes, she rises from her gloom.
For her Lord comes down all-glorious and strong in grace, in truth victorious.
Her star is ris'n, her light is come!
Now come, thy blessed One,
Lord Jesus, God's own son.

Hail! Hosanna!
Thy joyful call we answer all;
And follow to the nuptial hall.

Verse 3

Now let all the heavens adore thee,
Let men and angels sing before thee
with harp and cymbals' clearest tone.
Of one pearl each shining portal,
Where, dwelling with the choir immortal,
we gather round thy radiant throne.
No vision ever brought,
No ear has ever caught,
such great glory;
Therefore will we in eternally
Sing hymns of praise and joy to Thee!

CHILDRENS MESSAGE: Miss Dee

CALL TO CONFESSION:

Often, we gather in solemn assemblies, hoping that God will overlook our true intentions. We expect to go through our usual routines without being challenged or changed. God sees through our pretensions and invites us to face ourselves and the nature of our sin. Let us pray.

PRAYER OF CONFESSION

If sin means cutting ourselves off from You and being unprepared to respond to Your presence, surely, we have sinned. Our lamps are not trimmed; our lives are not ready for Your trumpet call. We have not listened well or encouraged one another in the faith. The distraction of many things has kept us from meditation and prayer. We are witnesses against ourselves, for we have vowed our loyalty and then have gone our own way. Merciful God, we seek Your forgiveness.

TIME OF SILENT PERSONAL CONFESSION

ASSURANCE OF FORGIVENESS

God brought our spiritual ancestors out of bondage and protected them along their way. We believe God is eager to free us from all that imprisons us. Our days on earth are a trust from God, and we serve God best by investing our time in learning and living God's intentions for us. It is God's will that we live in harmony with one another, that we learn to love all God's children. God extends full pardon to us. Praise God for forgiveness and a second chance.

HOLY SCRIPTURES: Psalm 78:1–7, Matthew 25:1–13

PSALM 78

A maskil of Asaph

<sup>1</sup> My people, hear my teaching;
listen to the words of my mouth.
<sup>2</sup> I will open my mouth with a parable;
I will utter hidden things, things from of old—<sup>3</sup> things we have heard and known,
things our ancestors have told us.
<sup>4</sup> We will not hide them from their descendants;
we will tell the next generation
the praiseworthy deeds of the Lord,
his power, and the wonders he has done.
<sup>5</sup> He decreed statutes for Jacob
and established the law in Israel,
which he commanded our ancestors
to teach their children, <sup>6</sup> so the next generation would know them,
even the children yet to be born,
and they in turn would tell their children.
<sup>7</sup> Then they would put their trust in God
and would not forget his deeds
but would keep his commands.

MATTHEW 25:1–13

The Parable of the Ten Virgins

<sup>1</sup> "At that time the kingdom of heaven will be like ten virgins who took their lamps and went out to meet the bridegroom. <sup>2</sup> Five of them were foolish and five were wise. <sup>3</sup> The foolish ones took their lamps but did not take any oil with them. <sup>4</sup> The wise ones, however, took oil in jars along with their lamps. <sup>5</sup> The bridegroom was a long time in coming, and they all became drowsy and fell asleep.

<sup>7</sup> "Then all the virgins woke up and trimmed their lamps. <sup>8</sup> The foolish ones said to the wise, 'Give us some of your oil; our lamps are going out.'

<sup>9</sup> "'No,' they replied, 'there may not be enough for both us and you. Instead, go to those who sell oil and buy some for yourselves.'

<sup>10</sup> "But while they were on their way to buy the oil, the bridegroom arrived. The virgins who were ready went in with him to the wedding banquet. And the door was shut.

<sup>11</sup> "Later the others also came. 'Lord, Lord,' they said, 'open the door for us!'

<sup>12</sup> "But he replied, 'Truly I tell you, I don't know you.'

<sup>13</sup> "Therefore KEEP WATCH, because you do not know the day or the hour.

SERMON: "Be Prepared"

PASTORAL PRAYER AND THE LORD'S PRAYER

Our Father, who art in heaven, Hallowed be Thy name. Thy kingdom, come. Thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors. And lead us not into temptation but deliver us from evil. For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever. AMEN

CLOSING HYMN: "THIS LITTLE LIGHT OF MINE"

This little light of mine,
I'm gonna let it shine.

HYMN NOTES

WAKE, AWAKE, FOR NIGHT IS FLYING

Written by Philipp Nicolai and translated by Catherine Winkworth.

Catherine Winkworth (b. Holborn, London, England, 1827; d. Monnetier, Savoy, France, 1878) is well known for her English translations of German hymns; her translations were polished and yet remained close to the original. Educated initially by her mother, she lived with relatives in Dresden, Germany, in 1845, where she acquired her knowledge of German and interest in German hymnody. After residing near Manchester until 1862, she moved to Clifton, near Bristol. A pioneer in promoting women's rights, Winkworth put much of her energy into the encouragement of higher education for women. She translated a large number of German hymn texts from hymnals owned by a friend, Baron Bunsen. Though often altered, these translations continue to be used in many modern hymnals. Her work was published in two series of Lyra Germanica (1855, 1858) and in The Chorale Book for England (1863), which included the appropriate German tune with each text as provided by Sterndale Bennett and Otto Goldschmidt. Winkworth also translated biographies of German Christians who promoted ministries to the poor and sick and compiled a handbook of biographies of German hymn authors, Christian Singers of Germany (1869). Philipp Nicolai (b. Mengersinghausen, Waldeck, Germany, 1556; d. Hamburg, Germany, 1608) lived an eventful life—he fled from the Spanish army, sparred with Roman Catholic and Calvinist opponents, and ministered to plague-stricken congregations. Educated at Wittenberg University, he was ordained a Lutheran pastor in 1583 in the city of Herdecke. However, he was soon at odds with the Roman Catholic town council, and when Spanish troops arrived to reestablish Roman dominance, Nicolai fled. In 1588 he became chief pastor at Altwildungen and court preacher to Countess Argaretha of Waldeck. During that time Nicolai battled with Calvinists, who disagreed with him about the theology of the real presence of Christ in the Lord's Supper. These doctrinal controversies were renewed when he served the church in Unna, Westphalia. During his time as a pastor there, the plague struck twice, and Nicolai wrote both "How Bright Appears the Morning Star" and "Wake, Awake." Nicolai's last years were spent as Pastor of St. Katherine's Church in Hamburg. (Source: Bert Polman)

THIS LITTLE LIGHT OF MINE

"This Little Light of Mine" made it into the American folk music tradition when it was found and documented by John Lomax in 1939. At Goree State Farm in Huntsville, Texas, Lomax recorded Doris McMurray singing the spiritual. The recording can still be found in the Library of Congress archives.

The song is actually attributed to Harry Dixon Loes. He was gospel songwriter and music director from Michigan who worked at the Moody Bible Institute. Loes wrote the song for children in the 20s. Though Dixon was a white man from the North, the song is often attributed (even in hymnals) as an "African-American spiritual." This is understandable because it sounds similar to other Southern spirituals of the time.

In the 1960s, the simple song became an anthem of the civil rights movement. It was adapted for this purpose by Zilphia Horton (who also taught Pete Seeger "We Shall Overcome") and other activists.

The lyrics to "This Little Light of Mine" are very simple and repetitive. This lends itself nicely to the folk tradition, making it an easy song to remember and sing along with. It's one of the first songs many children learn in Sunday school and is often passed down through generations.

Several popular folk artists have recorded "This Little Light of Mine" through the years. Among them are versions by Pete Seeger and Odetta.

The song can be sung in any manner you choose. It is often heard in a slow, gospel style or in a fun, upbeat version for kids. You might hear it a cappella or with a simple piano accompaniment; an electric rock band or a country twang; in four-part harmony or in a choral setting. It's also not unheard of for this simple tune to be played as an instrumental on everything from a mellow string tune to a raucous song for a group of horns. Bruce Springsteen and the Sessions Band performed "This Little Light of Mine" at a live concert in Dublin in March of 2019.
